6 March 2026

Join us at Doltone House on March 6, 2026, for an educational and inspiring day as we host two landmark events focused on celebrating and advancing the contributions of women in the life sciences sector.

Women have steadily been working towards equal representation and recognition across the life sciences sector. According to AusBiotech's Biotechnology Sector Snapshot, women's representation has increased from 35% in 2022 to 40%. Despite this positive shift, women remain under-represented in senior and executive roles.

The Women in Life Science Leadership Summit offers an inspiring morning where emerging and seasoned professionals unite to explore strategies for achieving gender equity and fostering leadership development.

Following the Summit, the Women in Life Science Luncheon, co-hosted by AusBiotech and Medicines Australia, provides a dynamic platform for over 650 industry professionals. The luncheon emphasises mentorship and networking, championing gender equity and the development of future female leaders.

By sponsoring these events, you will play a crucial role in advancing gender equity, supporting mentorship, and shaping a more inclusive future for the life sciences industry. Join us in honouring and driving the progress of women in life sciences.
